CITY ITEMS.

A Most Wonderful cure by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher.

My daughter, Margaret McFarland, now about eleven years of age, has been afflicted with a scrofulous disease, ever since she was one year old. I employed a physician of this city, who treated her for some time, but failed to give her even temporary relief. I consulted three others. They all agreed in naming the disease scrofula, but failed as the first had done. The disease increased in severity each year, and had involved the whole system; the neck, arms, and feet were covered with eating sores and ulcers, the eye-balls were blood-shot, and one of the eyes almost closed. The sores were continually discharging matter, and had burrowed into the flesh, so as to expose the bone underneath in a great many places. This was especially the case with the hands and feet. So badly were the feet afflicted that for six years she could not wear shoes on them. A great many pieces of decayed, looking bones were discharged and worked out of the sores. She was unable to stand on her feet, and had to be in a reclining position. At this stage of the disease, Mr. Lawrence Ennis, one of my neighbors, informed me of the wonderful cure of Mr. Daniel A. Boyd, (with whom he was personally acquainted,) which was effected with the use of your Blood Searcher. I called to see Mr. Boyd, and he advised me to consult Dr. Keyser. I concluded to do so, but found it was impossible to bring her to the Doctor's office, as her sufferings were so great that she could not bear to be moved. I then went to your store, No. 140 Wood street, and purchased a bottle of your valuable medicine, and before she had used the first bottle, she was able to walk around. She has taken your Blood Searcher off and on for the period of three years, and out of thirty-six sores which were on her person when she commenced taking your medicine, only two remain, and they are almost well. She is at present enjoying good health, better, in fact, than she has ever had in her life before. I feel bound in gratitude to you to make known these facts, as well as for the benefit of those who may be similarly affected. NEAL MCFARLAND.

The following persons are neighbors of Mr. McF., and have full knowledge of this extraordinary cure, and have allowed their names to be used with reference to the facts. LAWRENCE ENNIS,

SCHUYLER COLFAX RE-ELECTED—HIS SPEECH.

Mr. Colfax was elected. On taking the Chair he spoke as follows:

GENTLEMEN:—Elected for the third time to this responsible and trying position, I appreciate more than ever before the inheritance of the true, and I value more than when entering on its efficient duty the absolute necessity of your confidence and support. Nor do I overrate the gravity of our position as Americans and legislators. The years have never dropped their sands on mortal issue so vast and grand as ours today. A nation decimated by conflict of faternal strife; a land desolated by destructive marches of hostile armies; a people with fruits of prolonged wars ripened into a harvest of hearts dead with the bullet, as well as hearts heavy with bereavements and broken with anguish, look anxiously from North and South alike, and by that light we should ever walk. Its to guide our steps by the justice of God and the rights of men. It is to banish all malice and revenge and to justify our faith by our works. It is to anchor our legislation on what the great Commoner of England, John Bright, declares to be the simple but sublime principles on which great national questions should be settled, the basis of eternal rights. It is to write on our banner these words, that will shine brighter than the stars which greet the night sky: "LIBERTY, LOYALTY, AND LAW." It is so to make history, that posterity shall rise up and call us blessed. The Congress which has just passed away has written a record that will be long remembered by the poor and friendless, whom it did not forget. Misrepresented or misunderstood by those who denounced as enemies, harshly and unjustly, are willing to-day to think that we have been its friends, it proved itself to be more faithful to human progress and liberty than any Congress. Outlawed millions and oppressed have found in these Congressional halls champions and friends. Its key note of policy was reflection to the down trodden. Its equity did not before the mightiest, nor neglected not the obscurest. It lifted the slave whom the nation had freed to full stature of manhood. It wrote all our statute books the civil rights bill as our national Magna Charta, grander than all that preceded it, and the model American code, and in all regions whose civil government had been destroyed by a successful rebellion, it declared as a guaranty of defense to the weakest, that freemen's hands should wield freemen's ballot. It proclaimed the equality and validity of legal reconstruction on a foundation of unrepentant rebels and disloyalty. Fortunate it will be for us, if, when we surrender these seats to our successors, we can point to a record which will show on our history's page like that of the Congress which has just expired. Thrice fortunate, if when we leave this capitol, our whole national system shall be permanently restored, resting on sure foundation stones of loyalty, unity, liberty and right. With such convictions of duty, we bring to you, Mr. President, minister your rule, but not as a partizan. I appeal to you for that generous support by which alone a majority for the time being is obtained, pledging you in return an inflexible impartiality, which shall be proven by my conduct, and I invoke your confidence on the favor of Him who holds the destinies of nations in the palm of His hand, I am now ready to take the oath of office pre-ribed by law.

The Speaker was solemnly sworn into office by Mr. DAVIS, He read a brief but longest continued in service, and then the Speaker proceeded to administer the oath to members by States.

The House, by resolution, elected Edward McPherson Clerk.

BILLS SIGNED.

The SPEAKER announced that the President has signified his approval by reference to wool and woolens; also the army appropriation bill, with a protest. The President's message on the same subject was read and laid on the table.

The meeting then divided, the minority approving Sherman's bill, while the majority will hold a meeting to-night. The majority organized a new meeting, and passed resolutions condemning quiet submission to the bill, but characterizing it harsh and unjust, expressing approval of the conservative course of President Johnson in asserting the honor and manhood of the Southern people, and announcing as the sense of the meeting that the freedom of the people must not be bartered away for the provisions of the Sherman bill. The resolutions recommend the Governors of the Southern States to take steps to test the constitutionality of the bill in the Supreme Court of the United States.

MR. BROOKS PROTESTS.

In the course of his remarks in the House Mr. Brooks said:

"If the indications I see in the public press and elsewhere are to be realized, if the process of impeachment is to go on, or what is more revolutionary, the suspension of the President by the action of this House, it is revolution, and nothing but revolution, from this hour. I protest in the name of the citizens of the States I represent in part, that Speaker of the House is to create a Committee of Impeachment, and is to have the power to report articles of impeachment through this House. I say, therefore, that the most serious of all steps in the organization of this House, and in case the precedent you threaten me with is created by you, and the existing Vice President's death, the Speaker of the House becomes President of the United States, so that in point of fact, the Speaker elected to-day we may be creating the President of the United States. I protest in full solemnity of the Constitution and the people whom I represent and in the presence of the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. Ashley, who is to be the leader in this revolution, to full statute of impeachment, and taking any further steps toward the organization of this House until all States are fully represented."

Mr. Brooks then read the following protest:

WHEREAS, It appears by the record just made that the following States, seventeen in number, were not represented in the organization of this house, viz: The States of New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Kentucky, California, Arkansas, Nevada, Oregon and West Virginia, and whereas, March 4th, 1865, and subsequent acts, to representatives in Congress, as follows: Rhode Island, 2; Connecticut, 4; Virginia, 8; North Carolina, 7; South Carolina, 4; Georgia, 7; Florida, 1; Alabama, 6; Mississippi, 5; Louisiana, 5; Texas, 6; Arkansas, 3; Kentucky, 9; California, 3; Arkansas, 3; Nebraska, 1; in all eighty congressional districts now unrepresented in the House of Representatives, and

WHEREAS, Of these unrepresented States seven are of the original thirteen that formed the Union, and have ratified the Constitution of the United States—New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia—a majority of the original;

Therefore, we, members elect of the fortieth Congress, do protest against the organization of the House until the absent States be made fully represented. (Signed)

ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL PROTEST.

The following is the message concerning the army bill:

To the House of Representatives:—The act entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the army for the year ending June 30th, 1868," and for other purposes, contains provisions, to which I must call attention. These provisions are contained in the second section of the bill, and virtually deprives the President of his Constitutional functions as Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, and limits the orders to the States of the Union their constitutional right to protect themselves in any emergency by means of their militia. These provisions are out of place in an appropriation act. I am compelled to defeat the necessary appropriations if I withhold my signature from the bill. Pressed by these circumstances, I feel constrained to return the bill with my signature, but to accompany it with my protest against the sections which I have indicated.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

CAUCUS NOMINEES FOR SERGEANT-AT-ARMS, POSTMASTER AND DOORKEEPER.

Very much interest was shown in the Republican caucus tonight, at the Capitol, called to nominate the remaining officers of the House, sub-ordinates under present incumbents, and those in expectation of places under new officers, thronged the lobbies in full force, while others were attracted to the Capitol by curiosity. The great contest was for door-keeper. The nominees were General Lippincott, of Illinois, and the present incumbent, Captain Goodenow, of New York. The former was nominated by seven of a majority. Wm. S. King was selected for Postmaster.

The Mechanics' National Bank of Baltimore will not suspend business. The Directors and stockholders are wealthy, and will pay up the amount of the defalcation.

NO MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

It is not probable that any formal message will be sent to Congress by the President, so short a time having elapsed since that of December. Certainly there will be no message of extended length.

CONSUL RECOGNIZED.

THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE.

The Committee appointed to examine the New York Custom House report the most reprehensible state of affairs on the part of the present Collector, Mr. Smythe. There appears to have been established what was called a "ring," composed of Messrs. Smythe and Bergen, George F. Thompson, Samuel Booth and Mr. Hall, the latter a clerk in the office, with interests in the business. Mr. Smythe informed Mr. Humphrey that he had obtained from Messrs. Miller & Conger. On Mr. Humphrey's remonstrance against being tribute to the "ring," Mr. Smythe replied that he had offered a gratuity of $1,000 out of his. It was agreed that the money was divided as follows: $5,000 each, Collector Smythe and Thompson; $5,000, Senator Doolittle and Patterson; $5,000 each, Kinney, Deputy Collector, $5,000 each, Brown, Private Secretary of the Collector; $5,000, Republican National Committee Fund, $10,000; Hon. Thurlow Weed, $5,000; Hon. Henry Wilson, $5,000; Hon. Mr. Bergen, $5,000. This makes up the $50,000 so as to correspond technically with Senator Patterson's statement that he was not to have a dollar of it. The showing, however, left him with a number of the $5,000 political fund. Investigations are now being vigorously instituted and prosecuted extortion.

From dispatches to the Evening Chronicle.

Congress met at eight o'clock this morning. The Senate was called to order by Wade. There is a great deal of confusion here, and the city is densely crowded.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax was elected and has taken his seat as President of the Senate.

A movement is on foot to have the new Congress adjourn over Sunday, but as yet no action has been taken.

Washington is full to-day, and the streets are crowded with people from all parts of the country.

Andrew Johnson will be taken in the military bills regarded as a big bid for the Democratic nomination for the next Presidency.

Speaker Colfax has just finished his beautiful but brief valedictory speech and declared the Thirty-ninth Congress adjourned sine die.

Caught Again—A St. Louis Shover Caged In Pittsburgh.

An alleged "shover" of counterfeit United States currency, who had come all the way from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, to escape the meshes of the law, who had "struck" the friends who became his bail for the sum of one thousand dollars, and supposed he had got the matter all fixed to his entire satisfaction, was nabbed yesterday morning in this city, and sent back to the scene of his misdeeds, to receive the punishment due to ill-conduct.

In December last, a man named John C. Mitchell, a resident of St. Louis, where he has a family residing, was arrested in that city, charged with being a professional dealer in counterfeit national currency. A considerable amount of money was found in his house, and it was alleged that he had been engaged in the business for over three years, an allegation which seemed to be supported by various circumstances. He was taken before United States Commissioner A. W. Alexander, before whom he backs partial hearing on the 26th of December, at the conclusion of which he was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000 for a further hearing, to be granted him in a few days time. When the time appointed for the hearing arrived Mitchell did not arrive, and his bail was accordingly forfeited. It was subsequently found that he had left the city, and industrious efforts were made to find him, but on the 4th of February a telegram was forwarded to the chief of police of this city,

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1867.

WHAT NEXT!

The Tariff Bill having been defeated, it is essential to inquire, both of its supporters and opponents—what next?

A large part of the manufacturers, while eager for increased impost duties, which they find it difficult to obtain, are equally clamorous for an increase of irredeemable paper money. If their wishes should be complied with in both these particulars, they would be in as great perplexity as they are now. An additional hundred millilion or two of legal tenders or national bank notes would be sure to send up the prices of subsistence and labor to such a degree as to completely neutralize the increase of the imposts. A more suicidal policy could not be devised. In pursuing it, the manufacturers help their western opponents, who want more currency in order to enhance the price of provisions, while they demand lessened impost duties, with a view to diminishing the cost of such supplies as they are compelled to purchase. The manufacturers will perceive, after awhile, that a steady and permanent contraction of the currency, is exactly equivalent, in the long run, to a ratable increase of custom-dues on imported goods and wares. Gold is at premium of thirty-nine per centum. Nobody doubts that with gold at par, that is, with a paper currrency convertible into specie at the pleasure of holders, prices of labor and material would fall away, and with advantage to individuals having those commodities to sell, at least thirty-nine per centum. Here would be an absolute gain of Protection to that amount. The manufacturers may see a way to get that much Protection from Congress, and have it constant. If they do their visions are keener than ours.

The opponents of Protection refuse an increase of the impost duties. Will they now consent to diminish the internal taxes? They ought, at least, not to hesitate at making an end of the duplication, or, rather, multiplication of taxes on domestic manufactures. In some cases, as in that of printed books, seven distinct taxes are paid before the wares reach the shelves in a condition for sale. This is clearly wrong in principle, and most injurious in practice. Will they, furthermore, abandon the policy of continued inflation, and insist upon coming down to a specie basis as rapidly as shall comport with safety?

We take it for granted that both the opponents and supporters of Protection mean the Government shall supply itself with money sufficient not only to pay its running expenses, but to meet accruing interest, and provide for the ultimate cancelment of outstanding indebtedness. In what way shall this be done? Many shops and factories are already closed. Many more soon will be. The internal revenue already begins seriously to contract. Last month the custom-houses made larger returns than the collectors of internal taxes. This only foreshadows what is to come. Are the opponents of Protection willing to run so close a risk of National bankruptcy and repudiation? With large sections of our industry paralyzed; with mechanics and manufacturers, by tens of thousands, forced from their accustomed employments, upon agriculture for subsistence; and with importations swollen to such a pitch as to drain the country of coin and bullion—there certainly can be but one result, and that is a wide-spread and fearful commercial revulsion.

Nor can we fail to protest against the magnitude and manner of exemptions from taxes proposed by the defeated bill. In the existing state of affairs, we are not clear that any other remissions of taxes are safe or desirable than such as are in obedience to the principle that burdens shall not be duplicated or multiplied on any article. If this equitable rule shall be established and adhered to, it will contract the revenue very considerably, and will distribute relief as fairly as any other system of remission that can be devised. It will, we think, be found to work much more justly to all interests than the plan of placing numerous commodities on the free list.

When the government and people shall have doubled the cape of difficulty, and reached the safe anchorage of specie, reliable calculations will be possible. The resources of the Treasury will be computable with tolerable accuracy. Then it can be determined how much revenue can be relinquished. The anxiety to get rid of taxes with an impending certainty of lessened production, and consequently of diminished income, seems to border on infatuation.

"THE GAZETTE GONE BACK."

The Leader charges the GAZETTE with change of front, i. e.: that "whereas the GAZETTE, in common with other city papers, had severely denounced the monopoly (meaning the Pennsylvania Railroad Company,) for its hostile attitude towards the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, it has within the past week published no less than two articles complimenting, in unstinted terms, the management of the Pennsylvania Road." From these premises the Leader reaches a conclusion implied by its interrogatory—"Is it possible the GAZETTE has forgotten the injustice of the management of the monopoly towards the Connellsville Road, or has it 'gone back' on the latter Company?"

Our readers know very well that we have not "gone back" on the Connellsville Railroad Company. We have written more than all our city cotemporaries against the act of Assembly repealing the Connellsville charter, and urged both the justice and policy of repealing that act. The GAZETTE has also, all along, persistently advocated as we thought and still think of the thorough and efficient management of the affairs of the Pennsylvania Railroad. We did not, and do not now, "go back" on our condemnation of the course of the Pennsylvania Company towards the Connellsville Company. We did not, and do not now, relax an iota of our advocacy of a General Railroad Law. In these respects we shall, as hitherto, oppose the policy of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, but in pursuing this course we propose to accord full credit to that corporation for the tact and skill and wonderful energy and success that have characterized its management. No corporation, legalized by our legislation, has done or is capable of doing so much for the advancement of a rapid and healthy development of our prosperity. We would foster it, cherish it, uphold it, in all this; opposing and condemning it only when its powerful influence is operated against extending like facilities and blessing to the counties north and south of its lines. We trust the Leader is satisfied.

THE NEW CONGRESS.

The Telegraph has informed us of the assembling and organization of the XLth Congress. BENJAMIN F. WADE, of Ohio, has been chosen the Presiding officer of the Senate, virtually the Vice President of the United States.

Mr. WADE was born in Massachusetts in 1800 and received a very limited education. In 1821 he emigrated to Ohio, where he taught school and devoted himself to agricultural pursuits. He afterwards became a member of the legal fraternity, and in 1851 was chosen a Senator in Congress from that State. Serving that term, which expired in 1857, he was re-elected, and again re-elected in 1863. His present term will expire in 1869. He is a gentleman of thorough business attainments and shrewd executive qualifications, and no better choice could have been made. The present Senate is composed as follows:

Republicans, 42:	Democrats, 12.

From this it will be seen that the Republicans have a majority of over three-fourths, an addition of five members to their force in the Congress just expired. Some of the above marked Democratic were elected by Republican Legislatures but are so conservative as to uniformly vote with the Democratic side of the House.

The House has chosen SCHUYLER COLFAX for Speaker, a choice which the country at large will approve. Mr. COLFAX was born in New York city in 1823; received a good common school education, became a printer and settled in Indiana in 1836. He then edited and published a newspaper and was elected a member of the 24th Congress, and was re-elected to each successive session, including the 38th and 39th Congresses, over which bodies he presided as Speaker. The whole country knows how efficiently he performed his duties and with what dignity and firmness he presided over the deliberations of those bodies; his election as Speaker of the new House is a fresh tribute to his patriotic zeal and high executive abilities.

The House stands as follows, being an almost exact counterpart of the one which has just expired.

Republicans, 129; Democrats, 34; Independent Republican, 1, (C.) Colfax R. Total, 164.

The Republicans have a clear majority, a two-thirds vote. There are twenty-nine members to be elected in the coming spring and autumn, from the States of California, Kentucky, Tennessee, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Rhode Island. The following calculation of the political complexion of these members to be chosen has been made by a contemporary journal:

Date of Election.	States.	Rep. Dem
14th of May, 1867	special, Kentucky	2 7
1st Monday in April	Connecticut	4 --
1st Wednesday in April	Rhode Island	2 --
2d Tuesday in March	N. Hampshire	3 --
1st Tuesday in Sept'b'r,	California	3 --
1st Tuesday in August	Tennessee	4 4
		18 11

This will give the Republicans one hundred and forty-seven members of the House, and the Democrats forty-five, leaving the former a clear three-fourths majority.

THE mania for defalcation of bank clerks and officers has again broken out, and from all quarters we learn of heavy losses from dishonest operations of sharpers. One Jacob Werty, of the Mechanics' National Bank of Baltimore, a clerk, has the modest little sum of three hundred thousand dollars charged up to his account. He has been stealing from the bank funds only twenty-seven years, and all that while managed to escape detection.

THE impeachment of the President will not be an unlikely event of the present Congress. The Judiciary Committee, in its report on the charges, urges that evidence sufficient at least to determine further investigation, has been discovered. It might have been prudent for the Committee to have laid before the country the nature of the evidence they claim to have adduced, so that the people might judge of the merits of the case.

THE renegade Cowan has not been confirmed in his appointment. The nomination was so fiercely assailed in the Senate that Mr. Buckalew, frightened at the whirlwind of indignation he had raised, disposed of the question by moving it to the table. The President, out of charity, will doubtless make another effort to provide for his favored pet and champion.

THE suffering and destitution of the whites and blacks in the South is about to receive attention from Congress. A telegram states that a large sum of money is to be placed in the hands of General O. O. HOWARD, Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, to be applied to the wants of the suffering poor of the South.

THE Judiciary Committee of the late Congress reported that President Johnson had made no effort whatever to secure the arrest of the assassin Surratt, although he might easily have arranged the capture of the man after his whereabouts were determined.

THE many friends of General James H. Ekin will be pleased to learn that the Senate confirmed his nomination as Deputy Quartermaster General of the United States Army. The General has richly earned this new honor.

THE heavy revenue tax imposed upon newspaper proprietors of three per cent. on gross cash receipts from advertising has been taken off in the tax bill which passed both houses of the late Congress.

GOV. HAMILTON, of Texas, is a candidate for the office of Postmaster of the House. He did good service in the Union cause last campaign, and should be rewarded with the position sought.

IN one of his veto messages, the President draws it mild for the rebels in speaking of the rebellion as the "opposition which was made in some States to the execution of the Federal laws."

A NEW TARIFF bill is to be prepared and revised by a Commission appointed by Congress, and presented for legislation next winter.

THE President's message to the new Congress will probably be read at noon to-day.

15 YEARS AGO AND NOW.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS was struggling into notice against the prejudices which everything new, however excellent, is doomed to encounter. TO-DAY it stands at the head of all the tonic and alterative preparations in existence. Its celebrity has extended to every quarter of the habitable globe. Physicians pronounce it the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT that has ever been introduced into the sick chamber. In the Hospitals of the Army and Navy, the Surgeons find it the very best time for convalescents, and report it as invaluable for sustaining the vigor of troops on the march, as a remedy for scurvy and all scorbutic affections, and as the only specific for sea sickness. California and Australia have emphatically endorsed it as the FINEST MEDICINE for acclimation, and in Spain, in America, and all the tropical climates, it is considered the only reliable antidote to repulsive fever.

To rely on mystery about the causes of its success, is to throw stumbling-blocks and alienation in the way of those whose good it seeks. It is thoroughly vegetable and alterative in which are combined the most reputable of a mild, pure and unvitiated vegetable stimulant, with the most celebrated of tonic and alterative anti-scorbutic, aperient and diuretic properties. Its roots and barks that have ever been introduced to a sick chamber.

It is also proper to state that the Bitters are sold exclusively on its own merits, under any circumstances, by the gallon or the barrel. Imitators are abroad, and the only safety for the public is to see that them is no secret about the "Bitters by the gallon," and to read the genuine signature of HOSTETTER & SMITH on the cork of the bottle.

OF WHITE PINE

Dr. GEORGE W. SWEET, of Boston, has compounded a medicine out of the sweet inside bark of the white pine tree, which has a wide reputation in a large variety of diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and mucuous surfaces and membranes generally, called "WHITE PINE COMPOUND."

Dr. SWEET says that it is sweet and palatable, and is readily taken both by children and adults, and was originally known to the aborigines, who so named the forests of those States, and used it in a variety of diseases, especially those of a scorbutic character. It is a sure cure for DIABETES, GRAVEL, ENURESIS, BLOODY AND MUCOUS URINE, and the troublesome malady known as albuminurea, or Bright's disease. Those who have tried in vain the various Buchus and diuretics, will find in Poland's White Pine Compound a remedy of superior efficacy and power.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1867.

MARCH FASHIONS.

The Boston Post, in its fashion article, says no one very sensible things. For the benefit of fashionable readers in Pittsburgh, we give them:

Of course there are plenty of foolish young girls who will exaggerate the distinguishing features of any mode, until they make it ridiculous. The tendency of our American girls is towards exaggeration of every kind; their conversation is hyperbolical; their use of phrases so far beyond the ideas they have to express as to have become a byword and a reproach. Their dress above all things reveals a disposition to attract attention by sensational effects rather than purity and perfection of taste. For example, if dresses are worn long they trail them in the dust half a yard; if sleeves are worn short they reduce them to a simple band, hanging untidily upon their necks; now that it is massed bigger they mount it as a monstrous, cushion on the top of their arms. In the same way they will undoubtedly do their best to spoil the short dress, but we sincerely hope the common sense of the country will not let it be spoiled, but that it will be adhered to and improved. One of the temptations to ruin it on the part of women themselves is the facility it affords for making over all sorts of old dresses, and any quantity of these striped and figured silk, cloth and de laine brought into play without any regard to the adaptation of the material to the style; also, instead of a petticoat uniform with the dress, old Balmoral skirts are trimmed up with frills and bands, and heighten the generally forlorn and pauperized appearance of the toilettes. A good husband said to his wife the other day, when she announced her intention of making a short dress, "Make it then of handsome material and in the best possible taste, so as to recommend a fashion which deserves to be encouraged. I shall willingly pay the bill, whatever the amount, and consider the sum well invested if it assists to promote a reasonable and practical street dress for women."

The new short dresses for Spring wear are made in two colors—the dress of one, the petticoat and en tablier of another. A black dress with purple petticoat and paletot is a good combination, also black and dark bright blue. A green poplin dress and black silk underskirt and paletot is a good style, or a thin thibet dress, with jacket and petticoat as the contrasting color. Care should be taken to make the skirt of the dress too short. Six inches is sufficient difference between the length of the upper skirts and the lower, measuring, of course, from the point of the dents, if it is cut in the usual way. The handsomest short dresses are black and trimmed with jet, with a panier, but tiny velvet bows are fresh and Spring-like in their appearance than the contrasting styles mentioned above.

Among the advanced styles of spring bonnets that we have seen, the Lesigne is the most decided novelty. The brim turns up in front like the side of a turban, and this difference, that it ascends instead of lying flat to the crown, and forms a plain over the forehead. A narrow cape of the back surmounts the chignon and forms a comb. This is quite new—rather distingue, but it can be becoming to very few women. Other styles in fancy straw approach more nearly to the bonnets of several years ago, the brim narrow and somewhat pointed and elevated in front, the cape of the back surmounts the chignon. The crown is the most important part of the bonnet, and fits to the top of the head, instead of as the back, leaving the cape and brim to serve as ornamental appendages, rather than indispensable parts of the whole machine.

Small feather-flowers are used for decorating the earlier spring bonnets, and jet is still largely employed upon black or green silk bonnets.

Birds made of silk or satin embroidered and fringed with beads, are a novelty in ornaments for bonnets and head-dresses.

Horse Thief Trial.

The Doylestown Democrat contains the following article on the trial of John Clark, who was arrested in Lancaster, by officer Baker, several weeks ago, an account of which we published at the time: "One of the most noted, illegal and unlawful dealers in other people's horse flesh, and whose marauding expeditions and jail-breaking exploits in the successful Jack Shepard style, are both well known in several counties of our state has at last received the well-merited reward of his rascality. Months ago, he obtained a local notoriety here by driving off the elegant team of Joseph Hart, West Rockhill to Jefferson county, arrested, the horse recovered in an injured condition, and he effected his escape by letting his two horses down in safety from a window of a three story room in the Hotel at Brookville, during the temporary absence of his guardian sentinel. Nearly a year ago this same John Clark was arrested at Allentown for stealing horses and sent from there up to Danville, in the county of Montour, where he was lodged in jail to answer a similar complaint; and celebrated the Fourth of July by breaking out, and again securing his liberty. Some weeks since, he was re-arrested in the city of Lancaster, and on payment of the reward and presentment of proper document by the Sheriff of Montour, he was again consigned to his custody. On the 19th of February he had his trial, being indicted, convicted and sentenced upon the same day. The sentence of the court was an imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for the term of six years and six months—and on the next day he was conveyed to his new and appropriate home."

Robbery and Assault.

We published some days ago a statement of the robbery of Mr. Brubaker, of Lancaster. A correspondent of the West Chester Record gives the following version of the affair, from which it will be seen that Mr. B. was severely injured: John Brubaker, from Lancaster county, visited Philadelphia on Monday last, February 25th, spending the whole day at the Avenue Drove Yard. During the evening, between 11 and 12 o'clock, he stepped into an oyster house to get a couple of some refreshments. In going out he was very politely accosted by a man, who inquired which way he was travelling. Mr. B. replied that he wished to go to the Bull's Head Hotel, Market street. The stranger invited him to step into the coach and ride up, as he was going that way. After getting in the horses were driven off at a furious speed, for a considerable distance, when the carriage was stopped, and Mr. B. was invited to get out of the coach to dinner. As soon as the order was obeyed, the coachman felled him to the ground with a billey, breaking the bones under his head and face, were mangled up frightfully. He lay in that condition nearly three hours senseless. It appears that he was driven some miles distant before the coach was stopped, was felled senseless as above stated, and relieved of his pocket book, containing about $130. The villians no doubt left him for dead, as he supposed, dead. His wounds are not considered serious, and in a few days he may be able to give the facts more in detail.

Save Your Oil.

We find the following receipt for saving oil—we presume coal oil—in our exchanges. Try it:

Put the wick into the lamp, and fill the latter about half full with coarse salt, and then put it in about an inch of oil, and it will be found that a great saving will be the result. The salt wastes away gradually during the burning, and must, therefore, be renewed from time to time. The light is purer and more brilliant than without the salt, and the wick requires no snuffing.

Bitten by a Mad Dog.

—On Friday last, three members of the family of William Fry, living about a quarter of a mile from Shippensburg, were bitten by a mad dog. The family observed that something unusual was the matter with the dog, but did not suppose he was mad. No sooner the children went into the yard, when the dog attacked and bit them badly. Mrs. Fry went to their aid, when she also was bitten. The dog then fled from the yard, when an alarm was given. It was pursued and killed.

New Book.—The publishers, P. Garrett & Co., No. 702 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, send us a neat little book of 180 pages, the title is "One Hundred Choice Selections." We have looked over these selections sufficiently to endorse them "choice." They embrace some of the most popular effusions of the day, rare poetical gems, fine specimens of oratory, and a fund of mirth and humor.

Worthy of Imitation.

The Philadelphia Ledger has the following excellent remarks: Tenement houses, in every city and town, have been for the most part great nuisances, damaging alike to health and morals. Hence, the preventive measures now in operation in London deserve general imitation. The power to inspect the lodging houses of the metropolis is placed in the possession of the authorities of the various parochial districts by the Sanitary act of 1866. Each person who lets a house, whole or in part, in which more than one family lives, or where more than two people occupy one room, must be placed upon a register at the office of the District Board of Works, and four hundred cubic feet of space will be secured to each inmate. The ceiling and walls of all rooms must be cleansed and whitewashed four times a year. The cistern of the house must be capable of supplying fifteen gallons per day to each inmate. The dust bin must be cleaned out every week, and the drainage made perfect. The medical officers of health have power to inspect the premises, and penalties can be enforced against violations of these regulations.

Child Burned.

The Columbia Spy says: On Thursday afternoon, Miriam Williams, a little girl aged about eight years, daughter of Edward Williams, while playing about some cinder, near the rolling mill of Chas. Maltby, Esq., was very severely burned. The cinder having been but a short time before deposited there, and still being hot, the clothing of the child touching it, caught fire, and in an instant her whole body was wrapped in flames. Some of the workmen in the mill hearing the screams of the child, ran to her relief, but before assistance reached her she was seriously, if not fatally, burned.

Held for Trial.—Yesterday morning Daniel M'Quade appeared before Alderman Strain and lodged an information charging Dennis M'Cann with aggravated assault and battery. M'Quade owns a skiff, and he had it moored on Sunday in the Monongahela river, near the ferry landing. It is alleged that M'Cann, and some companions, coming to the river, took possession of it, and prosecutor remonstrated with them, they fell upon him and beat him. The defendant was arrested and had a hearing. He was held to bail for Court.

A Novel Mode of Ship Building.—At Sandusky, Ohio, we are informed that in building a new steamer a novelty in ship building will be attempted. A boiler has been placed in position, and the vessel will be built around it, the timbers being put together in such a manner that the work can proceed in the ordinary way. When the vessel is ready to launch the boiler will be in its place.

Business in Lehigh Valley.—Business in the Lehigh Valley, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, is being pushed with great vigor. All the extensive coal companies of the vicinity of Allentown, the Gordon Manufacturing Company, and all the furnaces, are once more in successful operation, with orders from a distance for more work than they can supply as soon as it is wanted.

Deputy Quartermaster General.—It is announced by telegraph that our former townsman, General James A. Ekin, has received his appointment as Deputy Quartermaster General in the United States Army. No better appointment could have been made, and we rejoice that it has been consummated.

New Dress.—The Commercial came to us yesterday in a beautiful new dress, presenting a very fine appearance. We are pleased to note this fresh evidence of the prosperity of our neighbor.

—It transpired in a discussion in the United States Senate on Thursday, that the revenue of the country had fallen off lately in about three months, from forty to fifty millions of dollars! While Mr. Howard described this falling off in a great measure to the kind of assessors and collectors made by the Pre-ident, Mr. Sherman expressed his belief that the decrease was mainly attributable to the fact that there are fewer articles manufactured now than a year ago. Mr. Sherman is unquestionably correct, and there is much in the fact bearing on the national credit. If this decrease continues, as it may, in even greater amount, there is real cause for the apprehension that is being ginning to find expression, that the claims on the Treasury for interest, bounties, etc., will not be met with that promptness that has heretofore so signally maintained the public credit. To turn the current of depression, something must be done to inspire confidence—something like the inspiring of Mr. Sherman, that will induce "the manufacture of more articles." Revenues come from labor and enterprise, and these live only in confidence of future reward. Acting from this conviction, quite a number of articles exempted by the tax bill, such as engines, locomotives, and various agricultural items, were stricken from the free list and made liable to tax.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 4, 1867.

The produce markets were unusually dull to-day, which may be attributed partially at least to the inclement condition of the weather, which always has a tendency to restrict and retard out-door operations.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull but unchanged; may be quoted at $2.35 for No. 1 Spring, and $2.45 for prime White. Corn is in light supply; we quote at 95 to $1 for No 1 Spring. Oats quiet and unchanged; small sales at 50 to 52. Rye is in demand and higher; sale of 3 cars, with a probability of making it ten, at $1.30—to arrive. Corn is dull but unchanged; may be quoted at 70, on track.

FLOUR—Is firm, and a shade higher, in consequence of an advance in Chicago. We continue to quote at $12 to $12.25 for good to choice Spring Wheat brands; $13.50 to $14 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy St. Louis brands. Rye Flour, $7.50 and Buckwheat $7.75 to $8.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 9½ to 10 for Shoulders, and 14½ to 15 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quoted at 12 to 12½ for steam, and 12¾ to 13 for kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $21 to $21.50.

BUTTER—Continues excessively dull, with liberal receipts, and a supply largely in excess of the demand. We can report a sale of 500 lbs, solid packed, at 18; 1000 lbs, fair roll, at 25. Strictly prime Roll is selling at 28 to 30.

EGGS—The large sales on Saturday has reduced the supply, and stiffened the market considerably, and to-day prices ruled higher, sales being reported at 18 to 20—mostly at 18.

HAY—Continues very but unchanged—fair to good baled is selling on track and wharf, at $18 to $20—sale of 1 car at $20.

SEEDS—Clover seed is selling in a regular way at $5.50 to $6, and Timothy at $3 to $3.25. Flaxseed is quoted all the way from $2.75 to $2.85—but little offering.

BEANS—In fair demand and we can report regular sales in store at $2.50 to $2.75 per bushel.

POTATOES—Continue dull and unchanged; sales in store at 75 to 80, in sacks, and $2.50 to $2.75 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLES—Dull but unchanged; we can report regular sales in store at $3.00 to 3.50 per bbl, for common to fair.

OIL—The manufacturers rates are as follow:: 87 to 88 for No. 2, and $1.08 to $1.10 for No. 1. Jobbers rates, of course, a light advance over these figures.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and a little weak but unchanged. We continue to quote at 9 to 10 for Apples, and 16 to 20 for Peaches.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 4, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was a little more active, which is owing to the fact that sellers in order to effect sales, in some cases, made concessions. We can report sales of 135 barrels, on the spot, at $4.00; 1000 bbls to arrive, at 7; 2000, to arrive, on private terms; 2000 do at 6¾; and it is said that one of our largest refiners has purchased in Oil City about twenty three thousand barrels, for March and April delivery, at 7 to 7¼. May may be quoted at 7½; June at 8; and July at 9 to 9½. It is probable in the event of the price going much lower, that a sharp speculative demand will spring up, and this, as a matter of course, will have a tendency to check the down ward tendency.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for bonded oil, and the market continues dull and depressed with a drooping tendency. The best offer to-day for March delivery in Philadelphia, was 27½; 30 for July, and 32 for all the year, buyers option, though it is but proper to remark that there are very few, if any sellers at these quotations. Prime light straw to white may be quoted at 21, on cars here, and 27, delivered in Philadelphia. Free oil is being offered at 46 to 41.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported Saturday:

Fisher & Bro	240 bbls
Jas. Mawhinney	125 bbls
C. Berringer	480 bbls
Jas. Wilkins	775 bbls
Jackson & Bro.	1100 bbls
Total	4890 bbls

New York Cattle Market.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The cattle market receipts were: 6130 beeves; 17750 sheep and lambs; and 13965 hogs; 1475 beeves were from Illinois; 179 from Ohio; 181 from Indiana; 199 from Kentucky, and 41 from Michigan, under a largely increased supply. There is a falling off in prices from five to ten dollars per head, in medium to choice beeves to-day, with 2179 head on the books at 100th street, and 2[illegible] to arrive during the day. The brokers were unable to keep prices up to the mark of Monday, and before noon it was generally conceded prices to be lower on all grades; average quality was better than for a long time, the bulk of offerings being good to prime Illinois and Ohio steers of 1700@1[illegible], hence the average of all sales cannot be lowered, and this high average of quality keeps the range narrow, and quotations are only per lb lower. There were but few cattle sold for less than 14c, and but a limited number for more than 17c. The following are the quotations: Extra, 17@17½c; prime, 16@16½c; good, 15@15½c; medium, 14@14½c; poor to [illegible], and worst, 12@12½c; average, 15c. The sheep market has been unsteady, and prices fluctuated considerably since last Monday under the light arrivals and fair demand from sheep butchers; prices advanced so that on Wednesday lots good sheep sold at 9@9½c, and choice lots at 10@10½c. On Thursday the demand was not quite so firm, and on Friday sellers conceded about half-day prices ruled higher, sales being reported at 18 to 20c—mostly at 18.

HAY—Continues very but unchanged—fair to good baled is selling on track and wharf, at $18 to $20—sale of 1 car at $20.

SEEDS—Clover seed is selling in a regular way at $5.50 to $6, and Timothy at $3 to $3.25. Flaxseed is quoted all the way from $2.75 to $2.85—but little offering.

BEANS—In fair demand and we can report regular sales in store at $2.50 to $2.75 per bushel.

POTATOES—Continue dull and unchanged; sales in store at 75 to 80, in sacks, and $2.50 to $2.75 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLES—Dull but unchanged; we can report regular sales in store at $3.00 to 3.50 per bbl, for common to fair.

OIL—The manufacturers rates are as follow:: 87 to 88 for No. 2, and $1.08 to $1.10 for No. 1. Jobbers rates, of course, a light advance over these figures.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and a little weak but unchanged. We continue to quote at 9 to 10 for Apples, and 16 to 20 for Peaches.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 4, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was a little more active, which is owing to the fact that sellers in order to effect sales, in some cases, made concessions. We can report sales of 135 barrels, on the spot, at $4.00; 1000 bbls to arrive, at 7; 2000, to arrive, on private terms; 2000 do at 6¾; and it is said that one of our largest refiners has purchased in Oil City about twenty three thousand barrels, for March and April delivery, at 7 to 7¼. May may be quoted at 7½; June at 8; and July at 9 to 9½. It is probable in the event of the price going much lower, that a sharp speculative demand will spring up, and this, as a matter of course, will have a tendency to check the down ward tendency.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for bonded oil, and the market continues dull and depressed with a drooping tendency. The best offer to-day for March delivery in Philadelphia, was 27½; 30 for July, and 32 for all the year, buyer's option, though it is but proper to remark that there are very few, if any sellers at these quotations. Prime light straw to white may be quoted at 21, on cars here, and 27, delivered in Philadelphia. Free oil is being offered at 46 to 41.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported Saturday:

Fisher & Bro	240 bbls
Jas. Mawhinney	125 bbls
C. Berringer	480 bbls
Jackson & Bro.	1100 bbls

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point, with fifteen and a half feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. The weather yesterday was stormy and unsettled, and considerable snow fell during the day. A telegram from Oil City reports snow to the depth of six inches, and the Allegheny falling, with about five and a half feet at that point.

There were no departures yesterday additions from the regular packets, and business was dull at the landing; which, was owing, particularly at least, to the inclement condition of the weather, freight for all points are scarce, and boats experience considerable difficulty in picking up a trip.

The Bella and Peerless arrived from Oil City, and the first named boat cleared again last evening. It is rumored that the Peerless will load for Memphis next Monday.

The sudden rise in the Monongahela river at this point during Saturday and Sunday, was in consequence of heavy rains on the Mountains in Virginia. The Brownsville packet, Gallatin, which left here on Sunday morning, was unable to get under the bridge at Monongahela city, and was forced to return back to the city. The new steamer Elvira, which will leave on her first trip this morning at eight o'clock.

The Messenger, from New Orleans, arrived last evening, and the Glendale and Kate Putnam, from St. Louis, are due here this morning.

Sam Evans and his partner Tom Pender, both well-known steamboat passenger agents, have gone into the liquor business. The former has taken the bar on the new Brownsville packet, Elisha Beaunett, and the latter is fitting up a bar on the Fayette, belonging to the same line. Both Pender and Evans will be missed from their old standing ground, about the corner of Wood and Water streets, and the old fire plug will, we fear, be entirely deserted.

The Yorktown, in command of the veteran Capt. Wash Ebbert, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville, leaving to-morrow evening. The new packet, Lear Stratton, Jesse Dean, is up for New Orleans, leaving on Saturday next. These are both good boats.

The Minnie, Capt. Shaw, did not get off yesterday for St. Louis as expected, but will positively leave this evening. Passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. The Sherman, Capt. G. N. Baker, is in turn after the Minnie, and will leave on Saturday.

The Savanna, Capt. McGowan, is receiving freight for the Upper Mississippi, and will be the first boat out.

The Great Republic, Capt. Donaldson, will be the first boat that will leave for Memphis this season.

The towboats Tom Rees, Coal Hill, Hercules, and J. S. Neal, have arrived from below, with tows of empty barges. The tow boat Alps, noted in our last issue, as being aground at White's Dam, on Saturday evening, with the assistance of the Panther, succeeded in getting off. By the time the river released her barges, which also, were aground, so far as we have been able to learn, there have been no departures of coal on the present freshet, and there is little or none ready for shipment. It is reported, however, that a settlement has been between the diggers and pit-owners, have been adjusted, and that the former have again gone to work.

The new steamer Dubuque is rapidly approaching completion, and will be soon ready for business. She is a splendid steamer, and will be quite an acquisition to the Northern Line Packet Company.

On last Tuesday Capt. Hugh Black, Bank, of New Albany, was found guilty in the United States Court in session in that city, for piloting without license. The fine of $100, this decision subjects him to a fine of $100, as established by an act of Congress to "amend an act entitled an act to provide for the better protection of lives of passengers on board steamers propelled in whole or part by steam." Under the same act the Captain, if found guilty of employing the first engineer without license, is subject to the same fine.

At Cincinnati, during the freshet of 1837, there were sixty-three feet in the channel, in 1847, sixty-one feet, in 1854, sixty-one feet one inch, and in 1867, fifty-four feet one inch.

The following paragraph on the subject of removing wrecks and snags, and deserving of particular notice, is taken from a lengthy report in regard to river improvement by R. S. Elliott, of St. Louis:

In the matter of the boats and machinery for the recovery of property from sunken steamers, the achievements of private enterprise have demonstrated that the appliances and skill in the service of the government would soon accomplish large results in removing snags and other wrecks, which now obstruct the channels. A word from Congress can put these agencies at work in a day; and among practical men there is no doubt of their efficiency. A brief order from Washington would have saved the lives and property lost on the rebel wreck below Memphis.

The St. Louis Democrat scores a contemporary for following the Louisville and Nashville's pitches into the exploded steamer David White, the United States government the steamer Quickstep, and the Ben Franklin all at once, without stopping to take breath. The Quickstep was built at Pittsburg, he says. Is this so? Why, pray, is the boat she was advertised as a "low pressure" steamer, and the Courier has been informed that she is "high pressure?" Unless, says this uneasy reporter, "investigate, investigate; deception, deception."

The Quickson had been built at Louisville, there would have been nothing said about the great "strain" on her boilers, and our contemporaries in regard to her being an unsafe boat.
